BURLEY POOL GETS HOUSES

Central Kentucky Warehousemen Turn Over Their Plants to Co-operative Association

FINANCING STEPS TAKEN

Presenting practically a united front, as the warehousemen of the other three districts in Kentucky and of the Ohio and Indiana districts have done, warehousemen of the Central Kentucky district Friday morning signed contracts transferring their plants to the control of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, under lease until the corporation provided for in each district can be organized, full title to pass June 15, 1922, in the case of the warehousemen who desire to sell the plants not for sale to be leased at a rental of eight per cent net to the owners.

Aaron Sapiro, California lawyer in charge of the legal preliminaries incident to the transfer, assured the warehousemen that they would be protected from the outside warehouse owners in the pool to sell their crops over the floors of these outside warehousemen and quoted a recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States to show that in such cases the association might obtain an injunction and sue the offenders for damages.

President James C. Stone called the meeting of the warehousemen to order at the offices of the association. He said the contract was clear, but that, if any warehousemen did not fully understand its provisions, he might ask questions which would be answered until it was clear to him.

Mr. Sapiro called attention to the provision in the contract by which the warehousemen agreed to remain in charge of their various properties, if desired by the association, and said that in regard to the amounts to be paid for the various plants he believed that the warehousemen and the association, through Manager Baker and the district director, would reach an agreement in nineteen cases out of twenty. The provision of arbitration, in all cases in which the warehousemen and the association may be unable to agree on values, was explained.

Mr. Sapiro went thoroughly into the three methods of payment: First, in preferred stock of the subsidiary corporation to be formed in each of the districts, redeemable one-fifth each year beginning June, 1922, and paying eight per cent. dividend; two-thirds in preferred stock and one-third in serial income bonds paying six per cent. and redeemable one-sixth each year, beginning December, 1922; second, notes bearing six per cent. interest from maturity and payable in twelve equal bi-monthly installments, all dated June 15, 1922; third, one-fourth cash, one-third of the balance in preferred stock and two-thirds in income serial bonds as in the first plan. Deeds are to be made to the property covered by the contracts June 15, 1922.

The association will pay rent on the houses from Dec. 15, 1921, until the title is taken over at the rate of 8 per cent. a year on the valuation.

Arrangements for financing the payments for the warehouses will be begun immediately with various local banks, the Louisville and Cincinnati banks and government or Eastern sources of credit if this is found to be necessary.

It is understood that Louisville and Cincinnati brokers have offered to underwrite huge blocks of the stocks and bonds of the subsidiary corporations to be formed for warehousing purposes, and it is the expectation of the officials of the association that the securities will be quoted at par or above as soon as they are placed on the market. A big majority of the warehousemen have indicated in their contracts that they will take these securities in payments for their property.

THE NEWS REMEMBERED

Mr. C. B. Harrison, Secretary of the Bourbon County Y. M. C. A., has the thanks of THE NEWS force for a handsome and satisfying lot of cigars, with which to "smoke up" during business and leisure hours. The genial Secretary's gift was greatly appreciated and the vote of thanks spontaneously given without a dissenting voice (and the cigars had been tested, too.)

FIRE DESTROYS HENRIETTA HOTEL AT PRINCETON

The Henrietta Hotel, a three-story structure, at Princeton, was gutted by fire of undetermined origin. A score or more sleeping guests were awakened by crackling of the flames and fled to the streets. No one was injured. The loss was estimated at about $15,000.

The fire had gained such headway before it was discovered that it was not possible to bring it under control until the following day.

CITY COUNCIL COMPROMISES

Salaries and City Officials Fixed At Meeting With Mayor and Members of Council

DOVE OF PEACE ALIGHTS

Differences that have existed between members of the new Paris City Council and the city's executive officer, Mayor E. B. January, were relegated to the rear, and the dove of peace flew overhead, flapping joyful wings over the scene, as the members of the body got "down to brass tacks" at the last regular meeting.

After reading of minutes of the previous meeting Mayor January read his second veto, which met with no objection. The Council went into an executive session, and a compromise ordinance was agreed upon unanimously, except on Section 2, concerning the police department, to which Councilman Santen cast the dissenting vote.

Mr. Swift Champ, editor of THE NEWS, who had been elected to the office of City Collector, at an annual salary of $500, tendered his resignation of that office. Mr. Champ stated that he had never at any time been a candidate for the office, and when the salary was lopped in two it naturally followed that the appointment would be refused. Mr. J. A. Duncan, previously elected to the office of City Clerk, also presented his resignation. Both resignations were accepted. Following a caucus at which practically all the contentions in dispute were amicably settled, the following officers were elected:

Police Judge—Ernest Martin; Assessor—M. F. Kenney; Chief of Police, Fred Link, $110 per month; Patrolmen—George M. Hill, Robert Lusk, George W. Judy, Roy Turner, $90 per month each, (the latter being designated special traffic officer, collector of delinquent licenses, etc.); Firemen—Earl McCracken, Chief, at $100 a month, Richard Moore and Noah Clark, at $55 a month each; City Collector and Treasurer—John Yerkes, at $300 per year; Street and Quarry Foreman—Thos. P. Woods, at $85 per month; City Clerk—J. W. Hayden, at $75 per month; City Attorney—Charles A. McMillan, at $500 a year.

FARMERS ORGANIZE TO PUNISH POULTRY THIEVES

Turkey thieves in the vicinity of Jacksonville, this county, have become so bold in the past few days, and their depredations so numerous, as to call for vigorous action on the part of the farmers. At a meeting held in that vicinity Saturday measures were taken to apprehend the thieves. A shotgun policy was decided upon, and traps will be set for the culprits. The farmers adopted the slogan, "Shoot to kill," and will carry it out.

BOURBON COUNTY HIT BY HIGH WATER

An unusual rainfall for December featured the three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, of the past week, creating flood conditions in the city and county that for a time assumed threatening stages. Houston and Stoner creeks were out of their banks, and the lowlands flooded to a large extent, the volume of water rising steadily for several hours, finally receding slowly with the coming of colder weather, which acted as a check.

Almost every pike leading into Paris was for a considerable time practically impassable, causing the various bus lines operating out of Paris to make detours that seriously interfered with their schedules. North Middletown, Millersburg and Ruddle's Mills were cut off from communication with Paris for a short time. The water reached the first floor of the Paris Milling Co., but everything of a perishable nature had been removed to safe places the night before. On Houston avenue the water was over the street near the bridge to a depth of three feet, and many of the residences on that thoroughfare were surrounded. Ruckerville, the colored suburb of Paris, suffered from the visitation, many of the homes on the low grounds being surrounded by the waters, the occupants being forced to move their abiding places to higher ground. The damage done by the waters was slight.

Washout on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad tracks at Eagle, Ky., caused interruption of travel between Louisville and Cincinnati on all trains. Officials refused to say to what extent travel had been interrupted, although all the trains were running hours late. The trains were routed over the Atlanta line of the road by way of Paris and Lexington.

Within thirty-six hours ending Christmas Eve, Paris was drenched with nearly three and one-third inches of rain. Kentucky's annual rainfall is estimated at forty-seven inches. Santa Claus must have had the idea that Paris people were hanging up buckets instead of stocking this year.

PEOPLES' PHARMACY SOLD TO DR. FRANK ROCHE

The work of inventorying stock was begun yesterday. The stock and fixtures will be moved to the Roche building on Main, between Seventh and Eighth, lately occupied by the W. S. Dale restaurant, which is now undergoing extensive improvements. The new firm will be ready for business on January first. Dr. Roche will have associated with him his brother, Mr. John R. Scene From "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," at the Paris Grand Monday and Tuesday, January 2 and 3.

GREAT PICTURE COMING TO PARIS

A picture which makes a modern, blasé, sophisticated city audience break into bursts of spontaneous applause, giving way to an appeal which almost brings them to their feet more than once, appears to be what "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" has been doing wherever this picture has been shown. The first local presentation of this famous motion picture, offered by the Metro Pictures Corporation and produced by Rex Ingram from the scenario of June Mathis, will occur at the Grand Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, afternoon and night. "The Four Horsemen" is a dramatization of Vicente Balasco Ibanez's book, the greatest of war stories, now in its one hundred and sixty-sixth edition. The theme is taken from Revelation, interpreted by a Christ-like stranger, the prophet Tchernoff.

The story begins in Argentine, where Maderiaga, an old Spaniard, has built up an immense fortune. One of his daughters is married to a German and has three sons. The other is married to a Frenchman, a Socialist, who fled from the French-Prussian war, and the couple have a son and a daughter.

Upon the death of Maderiaga, "The Centaur," the German family returns to its fatherland and their sons and daughters concern themselves mostly with love affairs, nervous attacks and collecting antiques. One rainy afternoon while Julia Desnoyers, grandson of Maderiaga, and his favorite, is waiting for the arrival of his favorite tango partner, newspaper extras announce the murder of the Archduke Ferdinand. He is only faintly interested. Then comes the deluge, mobilization. Julio being a man without a country, does not enlist. There is no more tango; instead a cabaret singer takes the floor and sings the "Marsellaise." And there is no more Marguerite for Julio to make love to, for she joins the Red Cross.

An augmented orchestra, conducted by Mr. R. Haskins, and Miss Josephine Forsyth, Soprano soloist, are added features. Two performances, Monday and Tuesday, afternoon at 2:15, night at 8:15.

BOBBY LAVIN "MENTIONED" AS ALL-AMERICAN ELIGIBLE

Walter Camp, dean of all-American pickers, still carries the eagle eye that has made him famous the world over. From the turf gridders of Florida to the white-lined fields of Washington, from the historic stadiums of New England to the pigskin battleground of Southern California, he watches the foot ball stars rise and set. Walter certainly knows his stuff.

So Robert E. "Bobby" Lavin, of the University of Kentucky, a Paris boy, has a place beside Workman, of Ohio State, O'Hearn, of Yale, Buell, of Harvard, Holleran, of Pittsburg, Bradshaw, of Nebraska, and others of like caliber on the honorable mentions for all-American quarterbacks. Down here in Kentucky foot ball fans knew that Walter Camp had an eagle eye and they knew that Bobby Lavin was a great little foot ball player, but they didn't guess that the Bourbon county youth would gather unto himself an honor like that.

But Bobby surprised 'em, just as he always does on the foot ball field. On a team that, although it struggled nobly, finished far down the list among Southern colleges. Lavin displayed a drive, a type of cunning and a grit that placed him high among the ranking list of American college back field men, and achieved the honor of being the first University of Kentucky foot ball player ever accorded a look-in on an all-American.

RIPE STRAWBERRIES IN KENTUCKY WOMEN'S GARDENS

Mrs. Fanny Soper brought to the Carlisle Mercury office Wednesday a cluster of strawberries, bearing three berries and a bloom. Mrs. Soper has been eating berries from this bed all fall. Strawberries at Christmas, grown in the open, is most unusual.

While walking through her garden Mrs. Kate Patton, of Frankfort, found a handful of ripe wild strawberries. The berries were of medium size and well ripened.

Coal Found in America in 1600. Father Hennepin discovered coal in 1600 near the present site of Ottawa, Ill., and this appears to be the first record of the finding of coal in America, but it was not mined until nearly a century and a half later.

SIXTEEN HOUSES IN BURLEY POOL

Northern Kentucky Warehousemen Agree To Turn Over Their Plants To Pool

SAPIRO IS WELL RECEIVED

Sixteen of the 23 warehouses in the Northern Kentucky and Southern Indiana districts Tuesday signed contracts turning their crops over to the Kentucky Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, or to corporations to be formed in each district, to be used by the members of the association as receivers or grading plants of pool tobacco.

Of the seven not signed up two are in operation outside of the pool. The owners of one signed at Shelbyville, Wednesday, and the owners of the other four will turn over their crops at the meeting in Lexington to-day.

Aaron Sapiro, of California, legal advisor of the association, read the contracts and then went over each paragraph. Warehouse Manager Ralph M. Barker called the meeting to order and introduced Mr. Sapiro, who was greeted with wild applause as he arose to read the contracts.

Under the terms of the contracts signed by 16 companies, the warehouse men agreed to remain with the association as managers of properties, if desired, until February 25, by which time the subsidiary corporations are to be formed to be signed by June 15.

Twenty tobacco warehouses out of 24 in the Western District of Kentucky were turned over Wednesday by contract for the use of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association in a meeting at Shelbyville, following an explanation of the terms of the contract by Aaron Sapiro, of California, legal advisor of the association.

The warehouses, under the terms of the agreement, will be turned over, as of December 15, to a district corporation and payment will be made under three different plans. These three plans were the subject of consideration on the part of the warehousemen, thirteen out of the twenty signing withholding their judgment as to the terms until they consulted their stockholders.

The three plans include: First, payment for the warehouses partly in preferred stock and partly in bonds; second, part cash and the remainder in securities, and third, in notes of the district corporation guaranteed by the main association.

Confidence that the transfer of twenty-six warehouses in twelve counties from their present owners to the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association was expressed by Ralph M. Barker, director of warehouses, and Aaron Sapiro, counsel for the association.

Mr. Barker and Mr. Sapiro were in Louisville on their way to a meeting at Carrollton between representatives of the association and warehousemen.

REAL ESTATE DEALS

The Bryson Real Estate Agency, of Carlisle, reports the sale of the Chas. Massie farm of 133 acres, located on the Parks Ferry pike, in Nicholas county, to Raymond Booth, of Paris, for $12,000.

The Paris Realty Company sold this week for W. C. Fuller his residence at the corner of Seventh street and Walker avenue, to Mrs. Ruth Johnson Myers, for $3,000. Mrs. Myers will take possession of the property January 1, 1922.

SAYS EXPRESS CUTS TO SAVE $1,000,000 MONTH

Elimination of the war tax on express shipments, effective January 1, will result in a saving of $1,500,000 a month for users of the service, G. C. Taylor, president of the American Railway Express Co., declared in a statement recently.

During the first ten months of the current year, he said, the tax on express shipments amounted to about $13,000,000. The average express charge was $1.50 and the average war tax 8 cents. Elimination of the tax, he pointed out, virtually "will amount to a decrease in rates of a little more than 5 per cent., which should tend to stimulate business and accelerate the rapidly improving conditions throughout the entire country."

INMATES OF COUNTY INFIRMARY HAVE BIG DINING

Not all the gloom and darkening skies in the world could take from the enjoyment furnished the inmates of the Bourbon County Infirmary, when they sat down to the bountiful dinner provided for them Sunday through the thoughtfulness of Superintendent Joe Godman.

The table was laden with a menu that would have tempted the appetite of any others who had happened in at that time. Twenty-four guests of the county fared on the following good things furnished by Mr. Godman: Turkey, old ham, cranberry sauce, celery, peaches and cream, cakes, candies, nuts and fruits. Cigars and smokes rounded out the "card" for the men, while the women were given gifts of a more intimately feminine kind. Thus a gloomy day was turned into one of cheer for these unfortunates, who, seemingly

SILVER LINING TO THE INCOME TAX RETURNS

Bad debts may be deducted in computing income tax returns for 1931 under new revenue form act under a ruling issued at Washington, recently, by Commissioner Blair.

"Where all the surrounding and attending circumstances indicate" Mr. Blair said, "that the debt is worthless, either wholly or in part, the part thereof which is worthless and charged off or written down to a nominal amount on the books of the taxpayer shall be allowed as a deduction in computing net income."

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE

The outstanding feature of the Christmas celebrations in Paris was the Community Christmas tree staged in the big Circuit Court room in the court-house, Saturday afternoon. The entertainment was provided by the Bourbon County Health and Welfare League, co-operating with the Y. M. C. A. and the Paris Commercial Club, each represented by officials.

Over one hundred and fifty children of the city and county, whose parents were not able financially to give them the happiness to which their tender years entitled them, were guests for the afternoon. At the opening of the program Rev. C. H. Greer, pastor of the Methodist church, presiding, Rev. T. S. Smylie, of the Presbyterian church, delivered an eloquent invocation, followed by community songs, led by Miss Ellen Blanding, Rev. W. S. Cain, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, read a selection from the Scriptures appropriate to the occasion. Singing of Christmas carols followed, led by Miss Blanding, Rev. W. E. Ellis, of the Christian church, gave a short talk.

At the conclusion of the program "Santa Claus" appeared and gave out presents to the children, whose merry, happy shouts made the building ring as they voiced their pleasure. Besides generous bags of candy and fruits, they were given warm clothing, of which many of them stood in dire need. Mrs. Harriet Minaker, Visiting Nurse for the League, had made a personal canvass of Paris and the county, and not a worthy child was overlooked in any manner.

GET YOUR AUTO AND DOG LICENSES NOW

Warning to motorists that they are required by law to obtain their license for the new year before January first, has been issued by County Clerk Pearce Paton. Mr. Paton said many motorists were of the opinion they could obtain their license any time, if their cars were not being used. He emphasizes, however, that the law exempts none except those sick or absent from the city. Penalties are attached for failure to obtain licenses promptly.

Some question has been raised on the point of licenses for cars in storage. Mr. Paton pointed out that the safe thing for all motorists is to obtain their licenses at the required time. Delays are dangerous.

License tax on Bourbon county dogs will be due on January 1, 1932. County Clerk Paton is preparing to do some business in that line, as is incidentally County Judge George Batterton, since, according to the new law, those who fail to pay the tax are subject to grand jury indictment.

Some are preparing to pay the tax beforehand, in order to evade any possibility of grand jury indictment. Others, it is expected, as in everything else, will not report so promptly. The number of dogs in the county is likely to be decreased next year, as a result of the new law.

AMERICAN RAILWAY EXPRESS COMPANY REDUCES RATES.

What will be of interest to many consumers of the "finny tribe" is the recent announcement by Express Agent Collier of a reduction in rates, effective December 10, 1921, applying on shipments of fresh and dry salt fish, (when shipped in barrels), between points in nineteen States, including Kentucky and Ohio. This amounts to a 17-3-10% reduction in rates on this particular commodity, when shipped in barrels, to and from Cincinnati, O., Covington, Ky., and Paris, Ky.

BASKET BALL GAMES

Victory perched on the banners of both the boys and girls basket ball teams, in the double header played on the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium floor, Thursday night with the teams from the Ewing High School. The boys' team trimmed their opponents by the score of 20 to 12, while the girls took the measure of the Ewing girls by a much larger score, 45 to 7. The outstanding stars in the girls' game were Misses Wallingford, Baldwin and Rose, for Paris. The playing of Knox, Jones and Clark featured for the Paris boys' team. Despite the miserable weather a large crowd gathered to witness the games.

OUR CHRISTMAS GREETING

Christmas has come and gone, and with it many memories both cheery and sad—that is, the sad part has come to that. THE NEWS returns thanks for a Merry Christmas, and a patronage that far exceeded our expectations. During the holidays we were compelled to publish four extra pages to accommodate the rush of advertising, and this, with the job department working overtime in order to accommodate business men, furnished us with ample reasons for thanks. Our advertisers were more than generous and we desire to extend in this little space our thanks sincerely stated, for the business.

Paris and Paris people experienced a genuine old-time Christmas, in spite of threatening business conditions, and with pre-Christmas weather such as to keep many from doing their shopping until the very last moment. We presume everyone had a Merry Christmas, and now that "it's all over," we take the present opportunity of hoping that all will have a happy New Year. We thank you.

NEW YORK NEWSMAN VISITS PARIS

Writing for a theatrical newspaper in New York has its thrills, according to W. Renick Smith, who is here for Christmas with his grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Renick, of High street. Mr. Smith is on the staff of "Zit's Weekly Newspaper" in New York. "Zit's" is one of the leading theatrical papers and is described as "the connecting link between the screen, the stage and the public."

During the past year Mr. Smith says he has had some varied experiences in doing theatrical reporting. He has met many well-known Broadway stars and has come to know some of them. He knows Madame Olga Petrova, the famous motion picture star and has been a guest in her home on Long Island. Madame Petrova, Mr. Smith said, opened only last night in a new play, "The White Peacock," a dramatic play of modern Spain. This is her return to the speaking stage after an excursion in vaudeville and filmland.

He has interviewed such stars as Raymond Hitchcock when he was in the Ziegfeld "Follies," Marilyn Miller, the star of "Sally," the musical comedy which is now in its second years run; Louise Groody, leading lady of "Good Morning, Dearie," the Dillingham musical comedy; Sophie Tucker, the famous vaudeville comedian; Mary Roberts Rinehart, author of "The Bat," which is now in its second year, and other renowned persons in the theatrical world. Recently Mr. Smith went to Sing Sing Prison for "Zit's Weekly" to write-up the "Sing Sing Follies of 1922," a play given by prisoners.

Last summer he was sent to Blackwell's Island to review a monster vaudeville entertainment given for the benefit of the insane. He often goes to "first nights" as a critic. He also reviewed the "return" of Conway Tearle, the well-known movie star in "The Mad Dog," but this, too, was a failure. Mr. Smith says that Broadway producers have had bad luck with plays this season and as a result of the numerous failures, they have brought back to life such plays as "Alias Jimmy Valentine," "Bought and Paid For," "The Chocolate Soldier," and "The Merry Widow." The "tried and true" are meeting with success again. This week in New York, according to Mr. Smith, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is being revived at a series of special matinees.

W. Renick Smith formerly lived in Dallas, Texas, and with his mother, Mrs. Curtis P. Smith, has visited here often. He calls New York his home and will return there Saturday, his mother accompanying him, as well as his cousin, Miss Virginia Renick, of Winchester.

SERVANTS OF THE PEOPLE

Public services are second only to the two-cent postage stamp as the cheapest commodity purchasable by any man, woman or child.

They are "servants" in the home. They light the lamps, furnish the heat, wash the dishes, fill the bath tub, run errands, call the doctor, or the fire department, do the washing and ironing and countless other jobs.

In industry they are a "silent partner." They are simply departments of all business, whether it be a grocery store or a steel mill. They bring in the trade, handle employees, make machinery go, provide messenger service, take orders, turn raw material into finished products, permit production of low-priced products through economical and efficient power, irrigate farm land, conserve coal and oil and save endless hours of labor.

They are the most democratic of all commercial institutions. All classes are served with the same product and on the same scale. The widowed washerwoman is supplied with gas of the same heating value as that delivered to the wife of the banker; electricity of equal voltage and price is delivered to the mansion or the cottage; all fares look alike to the street car conductor and the telephone operator responds with equal celerity to the voice of the clergyman or the bootblack.

The whole scheme of things in this country—our plan of living and doing and carrying on, as individuals or as communities—is now built upon existence of these utilities and their efficient operation. Were the service of any one of them—electricity, telephone, telegraph, gas or transportation—cut off for any period, the whole nation would be thrown out of gear and actual disaster would occur.

Kentucky Jockey Club Issues A Review of Thoroughbred Horse Business

IMPORTANT FACTS PRESENTED

We are in receipt of a handsome little booklet entitled, "What the Thoroughbred Means to Kentucky." It is a very interesting and readable book containing information that has been compiled very carefully by The Kentucky Jockey Club.

Below are a few paragraphs about the horse industry taken from the above mentioned book that refers to Bourbon county breeders and should prove readable to those interested in the business:

"The Kentucky Jockey Club is one of the largest taxpayers in Kentucky. It pays into the State Treasury each year over $270,000 in license taxes, an amount equivalent to the taxes on $67,500,000 worth of real estate at the present rate of forty cents on the one hundred dollars, and in addition contributes over $40,000 each year in city, county and State taxes.

E. F. SIMMS' XALAPA FARM, BOURBON COUNTY

2,700 Acres, value.....	$1,350,000.00
5 Stallions, value.....	200,000.00
74 Broodmares, value.....	185,000.00
37 Weanlings, value.....	37,000.00
Horses in training.....	200,000.00

Total.....$1,972,000.00

Mr. E. F. Simms, successful oil man, is giving Kentucky the benefit of his great fortune. The past year he has been collecting what may prove to be the most valuable racing stud in America. Thousands of acres of land have been purchased by him near Paris, in Bourbon county, and when his plans are completed he will have an ideal thoroughbred nursery which will shelter some of the greatest horses the world has produced. Not only has he selected the choicest broodmares in this country and in England and France, but he has purchased for the head of his stud two wonderful sires that are sure to bring success to his establishment and further add to the glorious record of the American turf. Last year Mr. Simms purchased from the Duc Decazes, Prince Palatine for $100,000. He is the son of the Derby winner Persimmon, himself a first-class race horse; is the sire of Donnacona and Prince Pal, and in his new environment is sure to warrant the princely sum paid for him.

Mr. Simms has also brought to Xalapa Farm the famous French Derby winner Negofol, which he owns jointly with the Duc Decazes. Negofol sired Imp. Hourless, champion three-year-old of America, 1917; is also the sire of Tchad, winner of the French Derby, 1919, besides many other winners, and it is certain that in Kentucky he will take his place alongside of such royal studs as Fair Play, Friar Rock and Man o' War. There is promise of bright days for the American turf when such captains of industry as Mr. Simms invest millions in the breeding of thoroughbreds, and it is fortunate that Kentucky should be chosen as the theatre for carrying out his vast plans.

Mr. A. B. Hancock, of Paris, Ky., is one of America's most extensive breeders of thoroughbreds. He owns 1,500 acres of land in Virginia, which he devotes principally to the raising of thoroughbred horses. He also has 1,300 acres of land in Bourbon county, Ky., devoted to the same purpose and this year he has rented an additional 300 acres of land. Each year he imports from England some of the choicest products from the famous studs of that country. A conservative estimate places the value of the stallions, mares and other thoroughbreds owned by Mr. Hancock at a million dollars. He has in Kentucky, belonging to himself and Eastern parties about 100 mares whose value, conservatively figured, $250,000; four stallions, conservatively figured, $150,000; fifty-five weanlings $150,000; the value of the farm and buildings, $1,300 acres, about $400,000.

The stallion, Celt, formerly owned by Mr. Hancock, is near the top of the winning sire list in amount of money won, and another stallion owned by him, Imp. Wrack, heads the list of winning two-year-olds. Yearlings belonging to him and other parties and grown on the farms in Kentucky and Virginia sold this year for over $200,000.

RUNNYMEDE FARM, BOURBON COUNTY

-----------------------	--------------

Runnymede Stock Farm, located in Bourbon county, near Paris, was devoted to the raising of thoroughbreds from 1875 to 1913. The late Col. E. F. Clay was the owner of this estate and gave to the turf many of its most famous horses. For many years the late Woodford Clay and his brother, Brutus J. Clay, raised a string of thoroughbreds in the East and won many of the turf's richest prizes. After the death of Col. Clay and his son, Woodford, there were no thoroughbreds raised at Runnymede. However, Brutus J. Clay has returned from Atlanta and has taken up his residence at the old home, and it is his purpose to again go into the business of breeding thoroughbreds in a small way and to take care of thoroughbred horses for others. There is good prospects that the former glories of Runnymede may be restored at this historic place.

THE HOME OF MAN O' WAR

The list of baby colts and fillies will total yearly more than 1,800, and their market value at birth will exceed $2,000,000. When they become two-year-olds their value will be more than double. In the list appears the names of the following from Bourbon county:

ARE YOU RHEUMATIC

Many Pangs That Pass For Rheumatism Are Really Due to Weak Kidneys

Is it rheumatism?
Not every pain is.
Weak Kidneys let uric acid collect.

Uric acid causes many queer pains.
In the thigh it's sciatica;
In the back, lumbago;
In the nerves, neuritis.
Gout, gravel, dropsy are uric troubles.

When you suspect the kidneys use Doan's Kidney Pills.
The home-recommended remedy.
Paris testimony is the best proof.
Ask your neighbor.
Read this Paris woman's story:

Mrs. J. N. Reynolds, 255 Winchester street, says: "I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to do me more good than any remedy I have ever used and I recommend them highly. I suffered from rheumatic pains and kidney trouble. I could always tell when the weather was going to change as my limbs would become very painful. I would become dizzy, especially when I first got up in the morning. My kidneys were not acting regularly, either. I was not long in getting relief after I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and felt better in every way after using them."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Reynolds had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

Use of the Word "Migration."

The word migration is used in two senses; either to refer to those periodical changes of location such as are made by many species of birds and fishes, by some mammals and by a few insects, or to those irregular dispersions caused by overcrowding and lack of food or water.

MRS. DELLA KUNZE,
Chicago, Ill.

"I understand now why so many people praise Tanlac, as I have tried it myself and it certainly is a wonderful medicine," said Mrs. Della Kunze, 856 Lill avenue, Chicago, valued employee of the Boston Department Store.

"I eat with so much zest and enjoyment now that my family really joke me about it. A short time ago, however, I had absolutely no appetite and was eating so little that I was losing weight and strength every day and I suffered so much from indigestion and nervousness that I was on the brink of a breakdown."

"There are absolutely no words that can express my delight at the remarkable and immediate results I obtained from Tanlac. It benefited me in every way. Instead of being depressed and melancholy and tired and worn out I am full of life and energy and cheerful and happy all the time. I've gained twelve pounds in weight, too."

WHAT FIREMEN SAID IS NOT RECORDED

Mrs. Catherine Carley left her home in Providence, R. I., to do some errands. In her absence her two children locked her out. With no key, she was at a loss for means to get in until she recalled that her husband had one. He is a fireman and was on duty. So she pulled the fire alarm to summon him. Carley came with the key, a battalion fire chief and his automobile, two engine companies and a ladder truck. Neighbors also trooped to the scene but instead of flames saw only a home locked against the lady of the house and her husband letting her in.

Nests in the Dark.

Prairie owls select the deserted burrows of the "prairie dogs"; chimney swifts construct their nests far down in dark sooty chimneys, says the American Forestry Magazine, while woodpeckers constitute other familiar examples of this, as do a vast host of other species of birds all over the world.

EIGHTY CENTS IS TOP PRICE FOR CANDY PER POUND

When you pay more than eighty cents a pound for candy you're paying for the ribbons, tinfoil and the fancy box.

You have the authority of W. C. Hughes, Secretary of the National Confectioners' Association, for that statement.

Hughes says that manufacturers have cut their prices 40 to 50 per cent. His organization, he said, is planning a national advertising campaign to teach people that they can buy good candy without paying fancy prices for fancy boxes.

Candy, by the way, isn't luxury, according to Hughes. There is no reason, he believes, why it should not be a daily food, in the same class with pies and cakes.

BEFORE HEALTH BREAKS DOWN

Wise People Take Pepto-Mangan, the Blood Builder

The prevention of sickness is one of the greatest works of the public health authorities. People are being taught how to take care of their bodies so that they can avoid sickness. In schools children are being taught hygiene. Serious illness can be avoided by proper care of the health. Pale faces, sickly bodies, loss of appetite and sleep, headaches and nervousness are usually signs of weak blood. With poor blood, the body has no resistance.

Disease germs have an easy time of it. People are learning the necessity of keeping blood in good condition. They take Gude's Pepto-Mangan when they feel run down. That keeps blood normal so that it can resist disease. It is sold in both liquid and tablet form at drug stores.

THE NEW YEAR

A year is an arbitrary division of time, made for the purpose of enabling us to keep track of the passing events of history.

The beginning of a new year, or New Year's Day, is no more important than any other day, but because it marks the beginning of a new year we are accustomed to make it a special day.

This is the time for renewing the past, and making plans for the future. We cannot plan intelligently for the future unless we keep in mind what has gone before.

So, when we come to make our new year resolutions, we must, if we are to act intelligently, spend some little time in looking backward.

What have we done during the past year? And how have we done it?

What have been our failures? Why did we succeed? Why did we fail?

These are deep questions, but we must meet them and answer them honestly, to ourselves at least, if we are to make the new year better in any particular than the one just ended.

All of us want success, but not all of us will be permitted to achieve it. It was a wise old philosopher who said: "It is not within the power of man to command success, Sempronius; but we can do more, we can deserve it."

And during this coming new year we can, all of us, strive to deserve success in whatever it is that we do.

The effort to deserve success will keep us so busy that we will have little time for wondering if we are nearing success, and if we go at it in the right way we can get so much enjoyment out of the effort to deserve success that it won't matter very much whether we achieve what is regarded as success or not.

What is success, anyway? A great many people now believe that success consists not in what we get out of life as in what we put into life. More and more people are believing this every year, and are spending their lives on this basis.

And it is the people of this kind who make the world go forward.

People who live selfish lives, whose efforts are devoted solely to acquiring for themselves without thought of service to others, do not advance the world or any good cause in it.

The success of the selfish man, even if he achieves what may be called success, is a bitter thing. It gives no pleasure to him or to anybody else. He is a man whom nobody loves or envies, or strives to emulate.

The great success in the world is to lead a clean, useful life. If a man does this he will be happy and contented, no matter what his work or his station.

And if we make a resolution, on the coming New Year's Day, to lead a life of this kind during the coming year, there will be no need to worry about anything else. All the other things will take care of themselves.

TELEPHONE COURTESY

Sometimes, when answering the telephone, you find that the person at the other end of the line has made a mistake in the number. It may be that as you leave the instrument you say, "I should like to know that woman. Her voice was very pleasant, and when she found that this was not the place that she was trying to get she said, 'I am very sorry to have troubled you; central sorry to have troubled you; central must have misunderstood the number.'"

On the other hand, it may be that when the stranger discovered her mistake she merely hung up the receiver without a word of apology or explanation; then you go away feeling insulted and indignant. To hang up the receiver, as a way of shutting off a conversation, is quite the worst insult that can be offered to a person. It will cost you little to be courteous even to the most annoying person.—Youth's Companion.

IOFFRE BIG FEEDER

French Commander Packed in "Eats" as Marne Battle Raged.

His Chef Declares That Marshal Devoured Enough for Three Men as He Won Victory.

Paris, France.—The latest war reminiscences to be printed are those of the chef who presided over the destinies of the French general staff during the battle of the Marne and who prepared the simple but abundant menu that Marshal, then General, Joffre sat down to at very irregular hours.

If the chef's culinary accomplishments were not superior to his literary talent, one pitiful poor General Joffre, and it must have been a relief to the commander in chief to leave the mess table and return to the battle line.

"During the battle of the Marne," says the chef, "the general put away enough food to feed three ordinary men."

Then he adds naively: "I hope monsieur le marechal won't mind what I say about the general."

One of the most amusing incidents related by the chef is that on September 12, when it became clear that the enemy was in full flight northward and that the battle was won, congratulations were in order, and he received instructions that the menu for the dinner should be as much of a banquet as his raw material would permit.

Just as the meal was about to be completed a British automobile came up to headquarters with a basket of champagne as a token of congratulation to the French staff. It came from a British unit "in liaison." The chef was just getting ready to serve it when he noted that the bottles bore a German mark, and he informed the officer of the fact. That worthy forbade him to serve the champagne to the staff, and ordered him to throw the bottles away.

"We did," says the chef, "but only the next morning they were empty."

DINNER JACKET IS "SAVED"

English Authorities on Dress Give It a New Lease on Life—Approved for Most Occasions.

London.—A report that the dinner jacket was doomed has for some time worried men in London who conform to the decrees of the styles makers.

But the London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian comes along with the good news that it is the correct thing and that it is here to stay, the best authorities on dress asserting that, except when ladies are in the party, the dinner jacket with a black tie will continue to be worn at the smartest theaters, and also will continue to be generally worn in the best clubs.

While there has been a strong revival in "dressiness" in London recently, the fact is obvious that it was a long time ago and in another sort of a world when King Edward remarked to a young man who appeared in the Marlborough club one night in a dinner jacket: "Are you going to a fancy dress ball tonight?"

BULGARS WORRY OVER MONEY

Sofia.—Steady depreciation of the Bulgarian leva is causing anxiety in state circles and the government has taken coercive measures to stop all speculation in exchange. Heavy fines and even jail sentences will be imposed on anyone dealing in exchange without having the payment of some foreign bill in view.

The Bulgarian leva before the war was worth about the same as the French franc or about five to the American dollar. During the war the dollar at one time had a purchase value of 80 to 90 leva and now an American dollar is worth 125 leva. All the big banks have expressed their desire to collaborate with the government in an effort to check the fall of the leva, but it seems that no remedy has yet been found.

Admits She Tied Self to Bed.
Fargo, N. D.—After being found in a semiconscious condition in a room in a local hotel, tied to the posts of her bed and with her head thrust through the bars, Miss Esther Folden, seventeen, was taken to a hospital where she later recovered and admitted that she tied herself.

Took Honey From Hives; Bees Put It Back Again

Some months ago, Wallace Lanning, a beekeeper of Milford, N. J., took over 100 pounds of honey from his apiaries and stored the honey in the garret of his home. When he went to the garret, a few days ago, to get some of the honey, all he found was the empty comb and frames, all the honey being gone.

Investigation revealed that the bees had entered the garret through a knot hole and had carried the honey back into their hives.

DISARMAMENT

As this is written, it begins to look as if the disarmament conference at Washington will not reach an agreement as to the reduction of the military establishment of the nations of the world.

Complications have arisen which seem to make such an agreement out of the question, for the present at least.

But the conference will not be a failure. If an agreement of this kind is not reached now, it will be reached a little later, by another conference.

The sentiment of the world demands not only a reduction of armaments but has made it extremely improbable that there will be another war of any size. No great nation could start a war to-day, simply because it could not have the support of its people in such an enterprise.

The world war may not have settled anything, except the fact that wars do not settle national quarrels or ambitions.

For that reason, as intelligent people now see, wars are worse than useless. They settle nothing, and they entail a vast expense and a vast amount of misery and suffering.

A people might afford to go to war if anything were to be gained, but the recent world war taught us that nothing is gained.

This is the way the people everywhere are looking at it, at any rate, and this is why another great war is extremely unlikely.

There being no likelihood of leading the people into butchering each other again, the people will insist upon a reduction of armies and navies.

This may come by formal agreement among the nations, or it may come by independent action, but the movement in this direction has already started and it will not be checked.

FOCH AND LEE

It is hardly to be wondered at that the greatest soldier of the Twentieth Century should take occasion to pay his tribute of admiration and affection to the memory of one of the really great commanders of modern times, a soldier whose military genius was equaled only by the purity of his purpose and the splendor of his character.

Soldier-like, Marshal Foch employs few words in answering the anonymous "American Patriot" who had telegraphed him at a Virginia town that Robert E. Lee was "a traitor."

"If Gen. Robert E. Lee was a traitor," said the Marshal of France, "Napoleon Bonaparte was a coward. If General Lee was a traitor I wish France had more of them. He was one of the greatest military leaders the world has ever known."

In winning the World War, Ferdinand Foch leaned heavily upon "the sword of Lee" that flashed on every battlefield in France from the first Battle of the Marne to Armistice Day.

Lee's strategy, revived and employed first by Joffre and later by Foch, held the Hun along the French front, swift to attack, wary to retreat only to attack again, until at length the Hindenburg Line was pierced and the enemies of civilization sued for peace.

In this estimate of Lee, Marshal Foch takes his stand beside Viscount Wolsey, of England, who declared that Lee was "the greatest soldier given to the world since the days of Marlborough."

TWELVE MISTAKES

There are innumerable mistakes that people can and do make in life. A writer in a current magazine enumerates twelve mistakes which he says are most common, but which may easily be avoided. They are:

1. To attempt to set up our own standard of right and wrong.
2. To try to measure the enjoyment of others by our own.
3. To expect uniformity of opinion in this world.
4. To fail to make allowances for inexperience.
5. To endeavor to mold all dispositions alike.
6. Not to yield in unimportant trifles.
7. To look for perfection in our own actions.
8. To worry ourselves and others about what cannot be remedied.
9. To consider a thing impossible which we ourselves cannot perform.
10. Failing to help others whenever, however and wherever we can.
11. To believe only what our minds can grasp.
12. Not to make allowances for the weakness of others.

There are many other mistakes that we can make, of course, but if we try to keep from these twelve in particular, we will be headed in the right direction. And in striving to avoid these twelve we will no doubt avoid many others.

HAVE YOU ANY OLD TYPE MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS?

If you happen to have any old type of musical instruments around the attic you might be able to dispose of it by writing to William Fox, the New York motion picture magnate. For Fox has as a special hobby the collection of old and freakish musical instruments, both string and brass. He has in a building where he has his offices at 10th avenue and 55th street a cello gallery of instruments from the 16th century harpsichord to the 20th century jazz band skiffle. He has a hundred or more old horns and trumpets, bagpipes that twanged in royal halls. He has a music box once owned by the former Kaiser and harmonicones that date back to the War of the Roses. Indeed he even has a barrel organ and a mechanical flute, perhaps the only one in the world.

You have noticed, of course, that people who chew the rag are fond of it when it is played.

RELIGIOUS

A Resume of Events in Religious Circles For Present and Future

In spite of the heavy rain a large crowd of both children and adults was present at the Christmas program given for the children of the Methodist Sunday school. At the close of the program "Santa Claus" entered and distributed a bag of candy and an orange to each pupil.

Rev. Arthur Fox, pastor of the Paris Baptist church, recently closed a successful revival meeting at the Berea church. The meeting resulted in an addition of 346 members to the congregation, more than doubling the membership. This is reported as being the greatest number of members added to any Baptist congregation in the State this year.

The Men's Chorus and the choir of the Paris Christian church gave a farewell party at the church Saturday night for Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Boatright. Mr. Boatright was presented with a gold watch chain and Miss Boatright with a beautiful pin. Special Christmas services were held at all the Paris churches Sunday, the exercises being of an unusually impressive character. Special music by the choir was one of the features of the Christmas Day program.

Remember the Commercial Club's peppy slogan, "Trade At Home; Try Paris First Before You Buy."

Trade at home. If you reside and make your money in Bourbon county, don't you think you should spend it here? This is what it takes to keep a town alive—and Paris is a live town.

If you feel the need of a little trip for recreation purposes take it—but buy your goods in Bourbon county from local merchants.

Paris merchants guarantee their goods and grant credit. Why should you spend your money elsewhere?

EPISCOPAL CHURCH NEEDS
MORE MINISTERS

The Episcopal church in the United States faces a real problem through the steady decrease in the number of recruits for the ministry, a commission appointed to investigate the subject, declared a report made public recently. This situation, the commission stated, "is more grave than seems to be the case with other religious bodies."

In the diocese of New York where in the fifties there was one minister for every 491 communicants, the commission found that to-day there was only one minister for every 2,523. This proportion is maintained throughout the country, the commission reported, adding: "The seriousness of our case is heightened by the interplay of two facts; that our membership is increasing more rapidly than the average, while at the same time our ministry is increasing much less rapidly than the average. It means that we are pressing more quickly toward the critical moment when there will be so few ministers that our whole growth and work will be menaced."

NEW ACCOUNT BOOK READY FOR FARMERS

Following a general demand from farmers throughout Kentucky for simple record by means of which keep books on the farm business, members of the farm management department of the College of Agriculture have prepared an account book, the 1922 edition of which has just come off the press, according to an announcement of C. U. Jett, a member of the department. The book is said to be one in which a farmer can make a complete record of all the farm business, including expenditures, receipts and the farm inventory. Its form was suggested by results of work done in the field over a period of several years with thousands of farmers.

The book contains forty pages and provides sections for the annual inventory, for receipts and expenditures. Complete directions are given for keeping the accounts. The department has announced that interested farmers may obtain the book by sending thirteen cents to the College of Agriculture, Lexington, to cover the cost of printing and mailing.
